

For Immediate Release

03-05-2024

Illinois Emergency Medical Technicians Association Merges with Illinois Emergency Medical Services Association

Springfield, IL – The Illinois Emergency Medical Technicians Association (IEMTA) is proud to announce its official merger with the Illinois Emergency Medical Services Association (ILEMSA), effective March 5th, 2024. This historic union marks a significant milestone in the enhancement and support of emergency medical services (EMS) across Illinois. The merged entity will continue under the ILEMSA brand, embodying the rich legacy and foundational goals of both organizations.

The merger is a strategic response to the evolving needs of EMS departments and professionals in Illinois. By combining resources, expertise, and networks, ILEMSA will stand as the unified voice advocating for the EMS community's interests, promoting professional development, and pushing forward innovations that ensure the highest standards of patient care and emergency response.

Alan DeYoung, President of ILEMSA, expressed his enthusiasm for this new chapter, stating, "This merger is more than a unification of two organizations; it's a beacon of progress for the EMS community in Illinois. By coming together, we are not just pooling our resources but also solidifying our commitment to support every EMS department and professional across the state. The future of Illinois EMS is bright, and together, we will continue to advance the field, ensuring the best possible care for our communities."

John Collins, President of IEMTA and a seasoned member of the Chicago Fire Department, echoed these sentiments, adding, "The IEMTA has always been dedicated to the support and advancement of EMS departments and professionals throughout Illinois. Joining forces with ILEMSA amplifies our ability to serve our community, advocate for necessary changes, and provide comprehensive support. I am excited to see the heights we will reach together in this new era of collaboration."

The merger will see the integration of IEMTA's history, achievements, and initiatives into the ILEMSA framework, ensuring that the legacy and contributions of both organizations are preserved and built upon. Key focus areas moving forward will include advocacy, education, and support services tailored to meet the diverse needs of Illinois' EMS departments and professionals.

ILEMSA is committed to transparency and inclusivity as it embarks on this exciting journey. Stakeholders, members, and the community are encouraged to engage with the process, offering insights and suggestions to ensure the merged organization serves the best interests of Illinois' EMS community.

For more information about the merger, upcoming initiatives, or to get involved, please contact contact@illinoisemsa.com.

Together, we are stronger. Together, we will set new standards of excellence for emergency medical services in Illinois.

END

For media inquiries, please contact:

Alan DeYoung, M.S.

President, Illinois EMS Association (ILEMSA)

contact@illinoisemsa.com

(847)416-0022